Lemuria®

WHY LEMURIA?

Lemuria is the name of the mythological civilization that is told to exist before Atlantis. Lemuria's inhabitants were aware that everything that exists in nature is an expression of the perfect creation. They considered themselves as Creator's legal heirs.

They used to cure themselves with herbs, living in harmony with nature, which they used to take care of like cautious protectors, rather than trying to dominate it.

Here comes Lemuria's corporate philosophy that aims to operate for the psychophysical well-being of the individual that relies on its products.

OUR VALUES

RESPECT FOR NATURE

The core value for who, like us, decides to embrace the active principles of plants is to respect everything that nature gives us.

QUALITY

Carefully manifested through a careful research of the plants used, their source and methods of cultivation.

100% MADE IN ITALY

Most of the plants used for our products are cultivated and harvested in the Pollino National Forest, extraction and production completely made in Italy

RELIABILITY

All our products are registered to the Ministry of Health and included in the National Register of supplements.

CULTURE

Plants are selected and used according to the principles developed by the herbal tradition spread throughout the centuries.

EXTRACTION PROCEDURES

Lemuria specifically studied an extraction process that allow to get the greatest amount of concentrated active from each plant.

CONSISTENCY

Our company mission is to follow a steady path of research and development using tradition and consistency in our methods.

CONTINUITY

The reputation of our products is manifested primarily in the extraordinary length of their life cycle and their continuous relevance.

Lemuria®

Our history...

LEMURIA® was born in 1990 from an extraordinary intuition of its founder to formulate and produce “herbal” extracts, highly concentrated and alcohol free. It was an innovative idea, as on the Italian market mainly existed phytoextracts idro-alcolic 1:4 and mother dyes 1:10.

Thus were born the T.E. Line, total extracts “estratti totali” 1:1, alcohol free, that today are still representing the most characterizing and identifying pillar of Lemuria® as they are more concentrated and powerful than phytoextracts idro-alcolic 1:4 and mother dyes 1:10.

In the following years we have progressively integrated the existing lines, updated the formulation of some products and introduced new products on the market, with very particular formulations, as result of a research both at a national and an international level.

Today our list presents more than one hundred products, covering many areas from entire body health , to attention of single organ to women and babies.

All this has been possible thanks to the perfect integration between existing structural formulations of products on one hand, and careful studies of all the new regulations and laws to result in a steady growth in the market through the traditional pharmacies and herbal shops to the online world and Amazon.

*“Everything you can imagine,
Nature has already created”*

Albert Einstein

Our goal is to be able to offer products that can be vehicles through which we convey to an ever wider audience the concept of Nature as a source of mutual care and respect.

Lemuria simply collects what is already available in Nature and studies its powerful active principles and benefits.

In order to maintain the company goal as pure as possible, Lemuria invested in keeping sourcing and production close by:

Many of our ingredients are collected from the National Reserve of Pollino, in the South of Italy, and the extraction process along with the production of many other products are completed in a factory nearby.

Lemuria - Nature in Action

Our products

Characteristics of the products

Apart from the different compounds of each product, there are essential elements in common to our products that form our core values:

CONCENTRATION

Our products contain the maximum possible amount of the entire plant complex that characterizes each plant. Making them powerful, yet 100% natural.

ALCOHOL FREE

Most of our products are alcohol free. This feature makes them suitable also for the little ones in addition to all the people with intolerance or that don't want to assume any alcohol.

BIOAVAILABILITY

The substances in our products become easily and quickly available inside the organism to its intended biological destination.

EFFECTIVENESS

The high concentration of the product, along with the strong bioavailability provide a strong effectiveness onto the organism. Making many products strong, effective, but yet 100% natural, vegan and alcohol free.

T.E. TOTAL EXTRACTS

Total Extracts 1:1 - from 1 Kg of plant we obtain 1 Kg of extract. They are produced following a technologically advanced process; they represent extracts of single plants, alcohol free, and they vary from echinacea to Blackcurrant, from rosehip to linden and so on. Total Extracts are the purest and most powerful concentration of a plant extraction. This offers great bioavailability and high, rapid effectiveness.
